

CENTER FOR ATHLETIC MEDICINE

Henry Ford Sports Medicine Team at Mercy High School

Nicole Schreiber, M.A., A.T., A.T.C.

Nicole received a Bachelor of Science degree in Sports Medicine and a Master of Arts degree in Educational Leadership – K-12 Administration from Eastern Michigan University. She is licensed in the state of Michigan and certified through the Board of Certification for the Athletic Trainer. She has been employed as the Certified Athletic Trainer at Mercy High School since 2004 and by Henry Ford Health System (HFHS) since 2009.

In addition to her responsibilities at Mercy High School, Nicole is involved in the “Let’s Get Healthy” program to fight childhood obesity offered through HFHS-West Bloomfield. She also assists the orthopaedic department with a variety of projects including Dartfish, a computerized biomechanics analysis program.

Nicole is available for coaches, athletes, and parents to discuss injury prevention, assess injuries and give recommendations regarding treatment. She will be working at Mercy High School for all major sports home games, as well as in the training room during non-game days from 2:30 p.m. – 6:00 p.m. Her hours are posted on the door of the training room. She can be reached by email: nschrei1@hfhs.org.

Dr. Patricia Kolowich, M.D.

Team Physician for Mercy High School

Dr. Kolowich attended University of Michigan Medical School. She completed her residency training in orthopaedic surgery at University of Michigan. She received her sports medicine training at The Orthopaedic Specialty Clinic, Salt Lake Knee & Sports Medicine in Utah. Dr. Kolowich has worked at Henry Ford Hospital for more than 20 years and she is currently the Division Head of Sports Medicine and the Sports Medicine Fellowship Director.

In addition to working with Mercy High School, Dr. Kolowich has worked with the Detroit Red Wings, Detroit Rockers and Detroit Ignition Indoor Professional Soccer Teams, and Detroit Catholic Central Hockey Team.

Dr. Kolowich currently sees patients at the Henry Ford Columbus Center and Center for Athletic Medicine.

Dr. Kolowich is here to keep you in the game!

For a priority appointment to see Dr. Kolowich or one of her colleagues please call 313-972-4216